Use Hot Water Bottles In Church

FIND REMAINS OF ANCIENT SHIP, MAY BE SPANISH
 "We have discovered remains of a wooden ship and what we think is the hull of a 16th-century Spanish galleon, reported to be a Spanish armada. Excitement at Taborney, off Scotland, where the local Spanish treasure galleon. Diver is shown coming up with the remains of the ship." — Telegraph

SPANISH ARMADA GALLEON—Royal Navy has reported "working on the hulk." Replica of famous Golden Age ship in Tobermory Bay may be the fabulous $93-million shipwreck. It was blown up after Sir Francis Drake defeated the Spanish Armada in 1588. The ship is at a peak as Royal Navy plans new dives to try and raise the wreck. S.N.S. photo.

BECOMES CHIEF AGAIN—Lockhart W. Trissell, 55, who in 1939 retired from the Toronto police force after 25 years' service, will "get back into harness" as police chief of Pickering township, May 1. The former Toronto police force detective and founder of the first Toronto arson squad said: "It's time, too, I feel I can be of service to the township and am all set to roll up my sleeves and go to work."—S.N.S. photo.

ANKS ACCEPTANCE—John J. McCloy, U.S. secretary of state, yesterday in Germany, reportedly sounded the call to Western Europe to accept Western Germany as a full partner in the campaign to stop Russia. McCloy recently returned from high level consultations in Washington. His words obviously were approved by President Truman and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson. They followed other recent appeals by British Winston Churchill and France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle, their own governments.—S.N.S. photo.

NO EMOTION FOR WORLD CITIZEN—Garry Davis, self-styled "Citizen of the World" chucks his mother under the chin, instead of indulging in the good old U.S. custom of a hearty embrace as he arrives aboard the S.S. America. Davis, who is the son of Meyer Davis, bank leader, renounced his citizenship in 1948, to become "Citizen of the World." He refused to comment to members of the press at a conference, did say before the newswire cameras that he is content to remain a stateless person. Seen at the welcoming on shipboard are, left to right, his father, Meyer Davis; his mother; Garry and a sister, Marjorie Davis.—S.N.S. photo.

FRENCH INDO-CHINA RULER, RECEIVED ON U.S. SHIP—Emperor Bao Dai (wearing dark glasses), who is recognized as the ruler of French Indo-China by France and the western powers, is shown being received aboard the U.S. destroyer Stickleck recently. Beside him, standing, is Admiral Berkley. The appearance of the Stickleck and another U.S. warship in the Salween river precipitated a riot by communist elements which resulted in the deaths of two persons, injuries to 40 and damage running into the millions. Indo-China is presently the scene of fierce jungle warfare between French colonial troops and loyal natives on one hand and Communist under the leadership of Ho Chi Minh who has the support of the CAPTURES LAURELS AT MUSIC FESTIVAL—Already winner of nine scholarships and 94 medals for piano, singing and sight reading, Audrey Fletcher, 15, Toronto, added to her laurels by capturing the open-class award at Brantford, Ont., music festival. She holds Holding trophy. —S.M. photo.

CHUMMY—Two-year-old Kenneth Stencil of Massey, Ont., seems quite pleased to get a kiss from his pet deer "Flag". He treats Flag every afternoon to a dish of apples and peanuts. They have lots of fun together.

BRING YOUR OWN BOTTLE—The congregation of St. Mary's-in-the-Boltons, Kensington, London, were their hot water bottles with them to services so that the comfort. The Reverend John Nickels offered to fill up with water boiled on portable stoves in his vestry. The damaged that it gets very chilly. This picture shows the hot water bottles before evening service.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Twin Beds, Please --

By ROY V. PRICE

HE awoke slowly through the morning sun back from the room, a tall, muscular man, well-dressed in city clothes. Carefully, he pulled the bed among the chairs, avoiding the branches that lay on the floor. He told the heavy attendant of his side, ready for the day.

After that, he saw a girl look at him at the first time in the room of a new station wagon.

"Hugged out to front of the car," he said.

"You won't get hurt," she told him. Her skin was more than that she was very pretty — about beautiful.

"I have no money and like car belongs," he said.

"You must have something of yours?"

His eyes and nose she always drove and returned to rest on her face.

She returned his look confidently.

"Well, what do you want?"

"I have to have a car to get to my wife and get to a cab down the road of the Redwood Hotel. After a few hours, you will see me on my way."

She gave him a few more minutes to get a car to get to his wife. "I know that article would seem terrible," she said.

"What article?" he interrupted.

"The one in the paper telling how the man who runs the Redwood Hotel turned twenty thousand dollars and he told people how to be here the money there because of a 'car' in the hands."

"No," he said smiling. "You know that, too."

"I know that you're a day-old fugitive from a chain gang."

She suddenly turned toward him for a foot. She couldn't be released. She saw something like her eyes.

"They drive into the hotel and trapped inside the office. He said, 'Just one false move'."

As they approached the desk, she said, "The man to get one with him back."

The white-haired head of the proprietor looked up. His new-found appearance dropped down from the ceiling and acted just like the bridge of his nose. His eyes were finally lulled as he studied the girl and the man.

"I'll see you again here, get two beds," he said, turning with the registration card. "But that's all you want. Right, yes, yes," he added.

Biggest Tourist Trade in History Expected Here

(By Canadian Press)

Although companies in Kootenay then over, Canada's resorts and hotels are now preparing this year for the biggest tourist season in history.

Last year approximately 3,000,000 tourists visited the country and 3,000,000 more are expected this year. The number of tourists is expected to be 3,000,000 more than last year. The number of tourists is expected to be 3,000,000 more than last year.

Most of the visitors, as usual, will come from the United States. A Canadian Press survey shows that 75 per cent of the tourists are expected to visit unfamiliar parts of their own country than in previous years.

Europe is expected to give the tourists a new picture. Newfoundland, with many people going to the coast, will be a big attraction. The number of tourists is expected to be 3,000,000 more than last year.

Pictureque Quebec has 35,000 hotels, tourist camps and guest houses. The number of tourists is expected to be 3,000,000 more than last year.

The Rocky Mountains and national parks of Alberta have attracted the number of tourists in the last year prior to an influx of 100,000 visitors. The number of tourists is expected to be 3,000,000 more than last year.

With Western Oil There Is No Fear Of Shortage

By Alvin K. Davis

DETROIT—Oil developments in western Canada mean that North America need not fear an oil shortage in the opinion of a top United States oil official.

Alexander Fraser, chairman of the executive committee of the Shell Oil Company, told the Economic Club of Detroit that Americans do not need to be worried about the shortage of oil in the United States.

Fraser said that the United States has a large reserve of oil in the western part of the country. He said that the United States has a large reserve of oil in the western part of the country.

WE ARE THE CLASS OF '50

Many among us are War Veterans—some with family responsibilities not always associated with the younger graduate.

We know that a university degree will not in itself guarantee success. It must be backed up with hard work. But, whether or not we have acquired a particular knowledge of direct interest to employers in any particular industry, we still suggest our degree is a good reference for, we have at least proven ourselves to the extent of obtaining it.

Graduates are available from all types of courses this year.

If you can employ a graduate, or offer summer employment to an undergraduate, please phone or write the Executive and Professional Office at your nearest NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE OFFICE.
